The First Brighton High School

Early in the year 1841, long before Brighton became a part of Boston, the Brighton High School was established.

The above school was constructed when William H. Harrison had become President, and when Andrew Jackson was still living. In addition to this, the Brighton High School was started when neither Florida nor Texas had been admitted into the Union: moreover, the Civil War was to take place twenty years hence.

Both in this old school and in the striking structure of our modern buildings, students have gained a high moral background and intellectual training.

We, the students of today, wish to salute the early Brightonians for their part in making the Brighton High School an outstanding center of education.

Mr. Joseph A. Leary

Head Master

Foreword

For the past three years, you, the members of the Senior Class, have set as a goal the obtaining of your high school diplomas. On Graduation Day, you will receive the diplomas that symbolize the fruition of your scholastic efforts.

In future years, success and happiness will inevitably be assured if you will but follow the same pattern. Set for yourselves worth-while objectives, and then strive diligently and faithfully to attain them. Let each objective be a milestone with each successive one exacting greater application of your knowledge and skill. Thus life will constantly present challenges, from each of which you will always emerge as victors.

JOSEPH A. LEARY,
Head Master.

Editors' Note

Fellow Classmates:

We indeed consider this a great privilege to present to you the twenty-seventh edition of The Gothic.

To re-create through pictures and words the memorable events of our three years at Brighton High School has been the desire of the Gothic Staff.

We extend our sincere appreciation to Mr. Walter J. Kelliher, our yearbook sponsor, to Mr. William F. Walsh, our financial adviser, and to Miss Marion C. Gilman, our biographical and literary adviser, without whose valuable assistance this yearbook would not have been compiled and published.

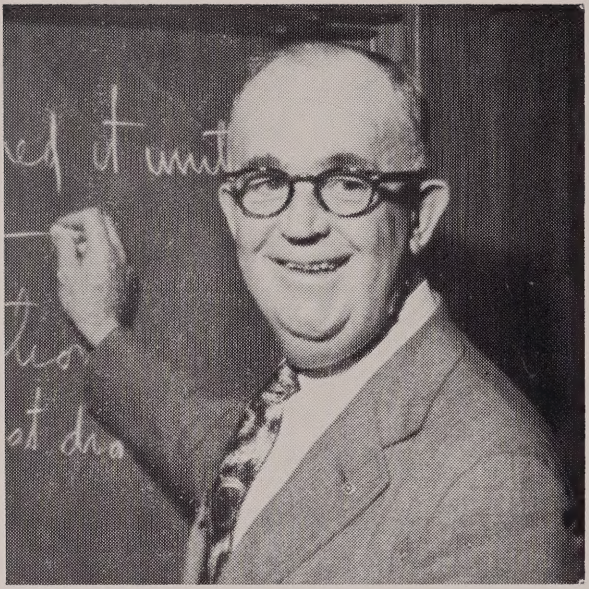
Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1955, dedicate the twenty-seventh volume of The Gothic in the name of Peace. For this cause countless young lives have been sacrificed upon the battlefields of the world. It is our earnest desire to see in our lifetime this cherished concord obtained for all eternity. That we may behold harmony ruling where once strife and discord reigned, our yearbook is solemnly dedicated.



Mr. John T. Gibbons

A Farewell

We, the students of Brighton High School, extended a fond farewell to Mr. Gibbons, who left us to become Head Master of Dorchester High School. His jokes will be remembered and laughed at for years to come by the hundreds of pupils who were fortunate enough to have him as a teacher, during his sixteen years here. He indeed made the study of chemistry much more pleasant for each and every one of us. We hope he will always remember us. We shall never forget him. Good-bye and good luck to a wonderful teacher.

Miss Agnes McCloskey
Miss Jane R. Woods
Mr. John E. Fuller
Mr. Samuel R. Romano

Miss Agnes McCloskey, Miss Jane Woods, Mr. John Fuller, and Mr. Samuel Romano have retired after many years of faithful service. They will always be remembered by those students who have been inspired by their excellent teachings in shorthand and typing by Miss McCloskey, history by Miss Woods, science by Mr. Fuller, and shop by Mr. Romano. These teachers have encouraged many students to pursue a successful career. To them, whom we hold in high esteem, go our sincere admiration and love.

President's Message

Classmates, parents, and friends, we have traveled a long way from the day in September three years ago when we as wide-eyed Sophomores gathered in this Assembly Hall for the first time as members of the Brighton High School. During our years here, some have found the road so difficult that they have turned off to seemingly easier paths; but for us who have remained, we have benefited well by the opportunity afforded to develop our abilities and talents to the fullest extent of our beings and to become happy, useful, and responsible citizens.

At this moment of our success, we welcome you, our parents, to share in our joy. To you go our love and gratitude for all the sacrifices you have made to prepare us for adult living.

Looking back over our school record, I believe we can well be proud of ourselves. At each marking period our Honor Roll has been long and distinguished. This year the admittance of twenty-four of our members into the National Honor Society proves we have taken seriously our academic work.

Now as we stand hopefully at the end of our adolescent years to take our places in the adult world, we are concerned by the realization that the forces of tyranny and despotism are again rampant. These ruthless enemies of Democracy have no consideration for the dignity and the worth of the individual. In fact their philosophy is in direct conflict with the precepts of Democracy that we have so well learned within the walls of Brighton High.

Here beside our classmates we have grown to respect each other's abilities and beliefs regardless of color or creed. We have lived in the atmosphere of true Brotherhood. Kindness, above all, we have found is much desired in our American way of life. It smooths tensions and brings understandings. Well has the Class of 1955 chosen for its motto: "Wherever there is a human being, there is a chance for kindness."

As we leave the sheltering walls of Brighton High with a thorough knowledge of the state of the world affairs, we shall carry forth the good lessons and high ideals of Brighton, not forgetting to work hard to prepare for the day when our great opportunity arrives.

To take our place as citizens in our United States entails a greater responsibility than that of the citizens of any other country in the world. Being cognizant of our obligations, ever shall we be good citizens ready to guard our sacred rights of American liberty and American freedom.

Der "German Club" der Brighton High School war im Jahre 1954-55 wie in den vergangenen Jahren unter der Obhut von Frl. O'Brien, die mit mannigfachen Anregungen die Taetigkeit des Clubs belebte.

Die Sitzungen wurden belebt durch Erzaehlungen von deutschen Maerchen, Gemeinschaftssingen von Liedern, und durch Erzaehlungen von Erinnerungen und Begebenheiten der einzelen Mitglieder. Musikalische Veranstaltungen fanden statt, auf denen deutsche Grammophonplatten vorgefuehrt wurden. Der Plattenspieler war liebenswuerdiger Weise zur Verfuegung gestellt. In weiteren Sitzungen wurden deutsche Briefmarken gezeigt., die viel Interesse fanden. Dargereichte Erfrischungen waren stets willkommen und trugen zur belebenden Stimmung bei.

Es ist geplant, die aufgelaufenen Beitraege fuer einen gemeinsamen Besuch einen deutschen Filmes zu verwenden und schliesslich eine gemeinsame Abschiedsfeier im bayrischen Ratskeller, zu veranstalten.

Wir alle hoffen, dass die zukuenftigen Mitglieder des German Clubs mit gleicher Freude an den Bestrebungen dieser Vereinigung teilnehmen werden, und wir alle wuenschen dem Club eine glueckliche Zukunft.

The Biology Club under the direction of Miss O'Brien was formed to stimulate interest in Biology. The club members enjoyed numerous field trips to museums, biological laboratories, and hospitals. These visits proved educational as well as interesting, for the members were able to observe blood banks, hospital training schools, and hospital laboratories where they saw the modern methods of Bacteriology and Medical Technology in operation.

The modern trends and recent developments in all branches of science were seen at the museums of science. It is our sincere hope that the members of the future Biology Clubs will have as many pleasant hours as we have had this year.

The Glee Club, composed of girls who are interested in music, meets every Thursday the fourth period. This year saw the greatest number of members, forty-five in all, ever to participate in the various activities of the club.

Under the expert guidance of Mr. T. Francis Burke, the girls have furnished musical backgrounds for the various assemblies and supplied soloists for the Kennedy Memorial Hospital and the Kiwanis Club luncheons. Many of our talented members took part also in the Annual Talent Show.

Students and faculty alike congratulate the Glee Club on a splendid and successful year.

In the belief that art stimulates and develops creative instinct, the Brighton High Art Club is organized to provide an outlet for individual expression and to lay the groundwork for the application and appreciation of art.

Since the urge to express oneself is natural to everyone and is the basis of all expression, the activity of the Club is devoted to creative products. The combined talent of its members finds expression in the creating and printing of scenery for the Talent Show, the Christmas Pageant, and various other school activities.

During the year the members also make various field trips to different museums in the city thereby gaining knowledge and inspiration firsthand and developing a keen sense of appreciation for the art and heritage of our culture.

The year 1954-1955 proved to be a highly successful one for the Reading Club. Meetings were held monthly; however members convened on many occasions to work on gifts and projects which were distributed to hospitals. Interesting selections were recited and famous plays were performed, with every member participating often during the year. A notable alumna of Brighton High School addressed the girls several times. In May, junior class pupils who had achieved honor grades in English, and who therefore were eligible for membership in the Reading Club, were entertained at a special meeting.

To Miss Bailey and Miss Marshall we extend our gratitude and sincere thanks for guiding our efforts toward enlightenment and knowledge through reading.

Le Cercle Français peut bien se vanter de son programme 1954-1955, où l'on a joui d'un succès considérable. Fièrement les membres eux-mêmes soutiennent avoir été très actifs cette année-ci a réaliser les projets coöperatifs du Cercle — plus actifs en ce sens, selon Miss Adams, que nos prédécesseurs des plusieurs années passées.

Les réunions mensuelles du Cercle ont très bien réussi, si nous pouvons accepter le jugement général. Nous voulons citer surtout la réunion du mois de décembre — notre gala de Noël exceptionnel: chansons, duo de piano, chants de Noël, et comme pièce de résistance un petit discours en français prononcé par Roger Frémont. Et après, nous avons gouté une collation savoureuse.

Un succès également a été le dîner à la francaise d'une belle soirée d'hiver "Chez la Duchesse Anne," petit restaurant authentiquemont français, où la cuisine était d'une excellence notable. Quinze jours plus tard c'était le thé a l'honneur d'une hôtesse de l'air, Mademoiselle Andrée Picq, qui nous a prononcé un discours très intéressant.

Voila les événements les plus dignes de remarque de notre période d'activité. Mêmes les occasions moins formelles ont très bien réussi, apparamment, et ont plu aux membres du Cercle.

Nous autres, étant "Seniors," quittons maintenant tout cela, mais non sans un soupçon de nostalgie et de regret. Avant de pénétrer dans ces longues perspectives que l'on appelle l'avenir, nous voulons nous arrêter un petit moment pour promener un dernier coup d'oeil sur le beau passé et pour dire très sincerement "Adieu et Bonne Chance" a ceux et a celles de nos camarades d'école qui, étant nos cadets, resteront comme nos successeurs.

The Student Council is extremely proud of the success it has enjoyed under the capable guidance of its adviser, Mr. Charles Kaufman. The homeroom representatives and the officers performed a superior task in bringing about a twin success involving the sale of book-covers and beanies.

In November, six of the Council members very ably represented Brighton High at the fall convention of the Eastern Massachusetts Division of Student Councils, which was held in Randolph, Massachusetts.

In January, the Student Council presented a Talent Show which was one of the biggest and most enjoyable ever presented.

Members of the Council enjoyed taking a poll of current records, the results of which were broadcast on the Boston Ballroom, Station WHDH.

Along with playing records in the lunchroom and supplying mirrors for the rest rooms, the Council spent a great deal of their time promoting school spirit which is, of course, its main and most important function.

The Key Club

Brighton High School is honored to be a participant in the program of the Key Club International of America. The objectives of the Key Club are to develop initiative and leadership; to provide experience in living and working togther; to serve the school and the community; to cooperate with the school principal; and to prepare for useful citizenship.

This year the twenty-five Key Club boys ushered at the Parent Teacher Association Book Review, sponsored a toy collection for the children at the Kennedy Memorial Hospital, and conducted a campaign against vandalism. The future plans of the Club are to start a Key Club Scholarship, and to send representatives, whose traveling expenses will be assumed by the Club, to the annual New England Key Club Convention.

In January, Frederick Tillotson, Harris Tarlin, David Fox, and Robert Flaherty attended the Conference of High School Key Clubs held at Woburn High School.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and gratitude to Mr. Thomas O'Keeffe, our faculty adviser, for his invaluable assistance and guidance in making the Key Club of 1955 one of the best in the history of the Brighton High School.

Brighton Towers

1955 has indeed been for the Brighton Towers one of its most successful years. With continuous effort and perseverance, the staff has managed to work as a machine with each one doing his own part as well as helping in the various other departments. The product of this collaborative machine is a fine, well-organized magazine, composed of material written by conscientious boys and girls. It is the general community spirit, which, I feel, has made the Towers outstanding. Regardless of the official duty of a staff member, he may be found doing most any assignment. Besides the literary work, there are the endless amounts of typing to be done, ads to be sold, and pictures to be taken. The faculty members, as well as the pupils, are to be congratulated. Miss Marshall, Miss Bailey, Miss Rhodes, and Miss Gilman have all helped to make this magazine a success.

As we now near the end of our school years, we glance back to the Towers, well worth the time, effort, and anxiety that have gone into it to make it unique. May the Brighton Towers always maintain its rigidly high standards, and may it always enjoy the success and good will of 1954-55.

This year the Brighton High School Orchestra was under the able direction of Mr. James E. Houlihan, Jr. The Brighton High School Orchestra is a growing organization, having doubled in size during the past two years, and shows great promise of further development.

The Brighton High School Orchestra contributed several members to the Boston Public Schools Symphony Orchestra and the Boston Public Symphony Band which performed at the Eastern Music Educators' Conference held at the Boston Statler on February 28. These students are Joseph Cocuzzo, Shirley Levine, David Nager, Wilma Schwartz, and Suzanne Wolfe. The members of the Public School Symphonies also participated in spring concerts at various Boston Schools, notably the James P. Timilty Junior High School and the Boston Latin School.

Talent Show

The annual Talent Show was held in the auditorium on Friday evening, January 28, at eight o'clock. This evening was the culmination of rehearsals which had begun in November. For these rehearsals we sorrowfully gave up one period each Thursday that the participants in the show might develop their talents to the highest degree. The Talent Show of 1955, containing forty-five acts, was one of the largest ever produced at Brighton. Much of its success is attributed to the two superb Masters of Ceremonies, Lenny Bovarnick and Phil Shepperson. Phil, by the way, sings himself, and thrilled everyone with his interpretation of "The Nearness of You."

The traditional pony line, led this year by Claire McAvoy, opened the show. The girls were clad in eye catching short, black dancing skirts. Their aqua, turtleneck jerseys completed the outfit and provided delightful color contrast. Claire did a lively solo dance in the latter half of the show. Caroline Pontes also distinguished herself doing an original modern dance. The only ballerina on the program was Catherine Bowen, who gave us all a very delightful impression of the ballet.

Lucille Snyder, playing her own original Boogie Woogie, amazed the audience with her keyboard versatility. For the third year in a row Joe Cocuzzo literally "brought the house down" with his extraordinary drum exhibition. Most original was Joseph Budina playing "Humoresque" on the violin, and Jazz on the clarinet. The audience really roared when Pat Randall danced on to the stage with her Virginia Reel group. Phil Shepperson and Sheila Cohen, singing the duet, "No Two People," truly captivated the audience.

Two talented girls, attired in striking evening dress, really created a sensation. They were Ruth Ganzell singing "Something To Remember You By" and Dot Salmon singing "I Want You All To Myself." Claire Smoske's version of "Let Me Go, Lover" was as professional as the recording. Fred Forrester did a wonderful job singing "Tell Me Why." When Jackie Riseman stood up to sing "Earth Angel," everyone recalled her success in her sophomore year singing "Diamonds Are A Girls' Best Friend." Myra Wolffers selected "My Mammy Done Tole Me" as her vocal solo, which did justice to her rich, deep voice. Brighton High's Joni James, namely one Angela Giuggio, was very sweet as she sang "When We Come Of Age." In stunning black outfits trimmed with chartreuse, Marjorie Dawe and Joanne Crowley danced to "Shake A Hand." "Count Your Blessings" was Jimmy McGuirk's choice for his vocal selection, and I might add that he was a favorite of the audience.

Each and everyone of the above seniors did his very best to make the Talent Show of 1955 the greatest ever. Speaking for the Senior Class, I would like to express a hearty and sincere Thank You for a job well done.

Class Poem - 1955

JACQUELINE RISEMAN

I

Summoned from all earthly parts
Come Sober Youth
To cast off Vesta's fostering care,
Protector's hand,
Alone to stand.

II

Cautiously we poise for flight.
Tense eager eyes
Greet the Speaker, honored friend,
Taking his place
With noble grace.

III

"Problems, grave ones, face you now,"
Says the Speaker.
"You must meet the hated foe—
You must take him
You must break him."

IV

"But who will lead us!" we cry out,
"No hero here;
There is no giant in our midst,
No Washington,
Napoleon!"

"Youth, be not blind, look 'round this day;
Let your eyes see
One face, aglow with Wisdom's Light,
Truth undefiled,
Compassion's Child."

VI

A thousand searching eyes behold
All within sight;
A thousand searching eyes invite
Him to appear;
They search in fear.

VII

"Youth, seek and ye shall find,"
Shouts he!
"I know not who — one of you may
Cause Hate to cease
And found — Great Peace."

VIII

"A chief from out your childhood clan
May yet arise,
Who, like the Happy Prince engilt,
With God-given Might
May bring forth Light."

IX

"Speaker," chant we in one voice,
"Reveal, reveal
To us, who, tremulous, await
This spirit pure,
Bright Cynosure."

X

"Not cloaked in garments rare is he,
No king by birth,
But one who touches tempting wrong
And turns away
May lead some day."

XI

"That one of you who utters loud
Against the crowd
Right doctrines, cherished in his heart,
May help all men
Be free again."

XII

Wild glory flows into our souls
On Rapture's Sea.
Exultantly we feel that Power
Most oft' denied
To Mortal Pride.

XIII

Great Joy enchants the awakening Heart
And makes it sing.
Passionate Hope, a soaring flame,
Sweeps through the air,
Consuming fear.

XIV

"Forward, Fair Youth, ascend your heights—
Let men rejoice!
Hold fast your dream, confirm our faith—
Fling wide all gates—
A New World waits."

Class Song - 1955

By Mary J. Lagadinos

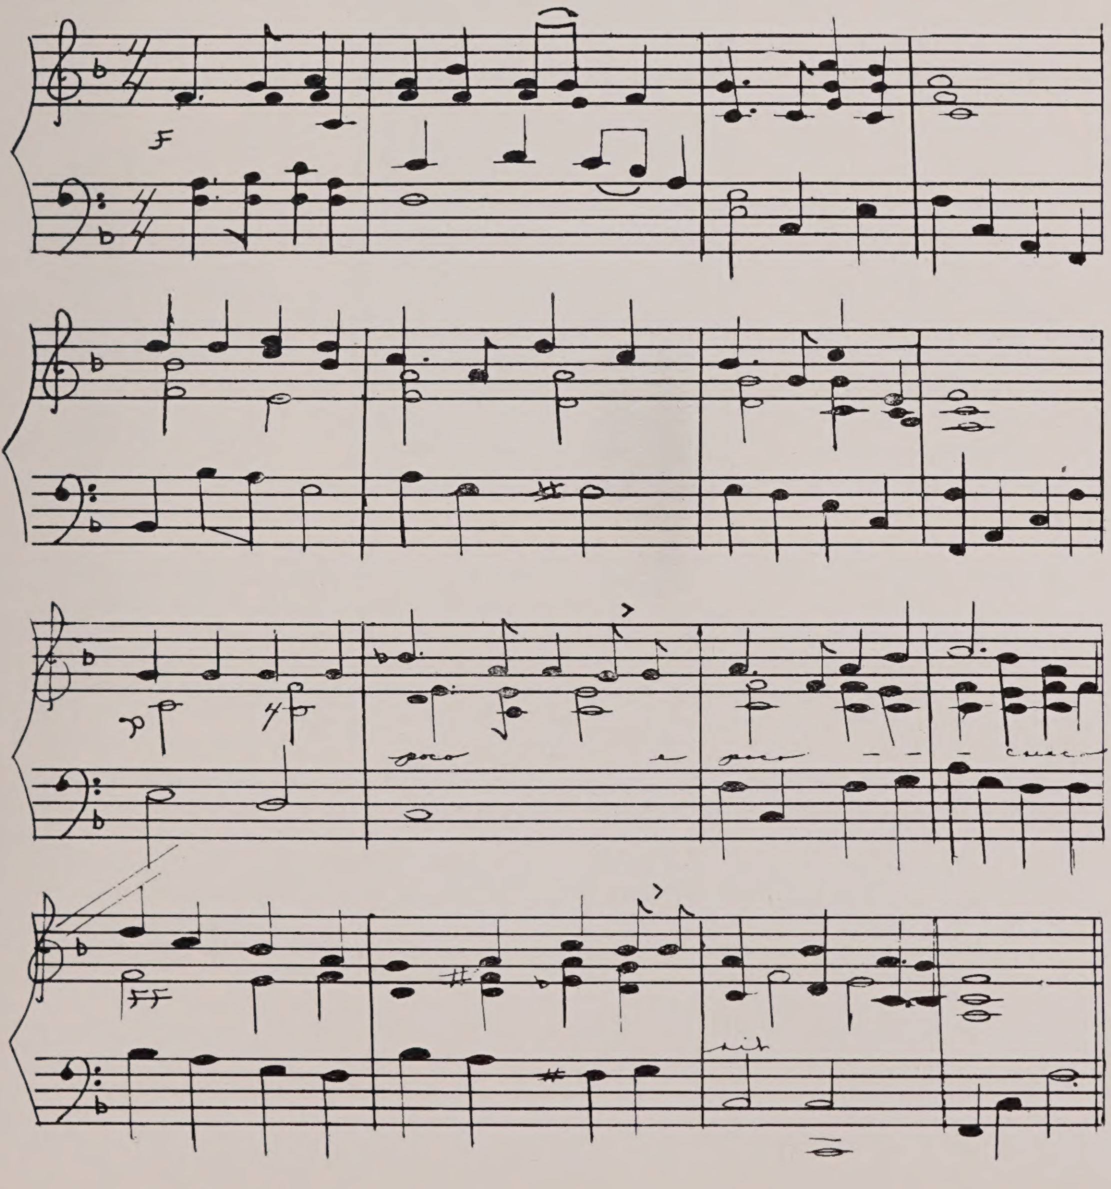
I

Brighton High, we now must leave thee,
Graduates who know
You have done your best to guide us,
On and on you'll go.
Strong foundation you have given,
American all through.
We'll make you proud of our endeavors,
As we are proud of you.

II

Fare thee well, dear School of Memories,
On through life we go.
We will keep our love for you
As the years roll through.
Hope, success to all our classmates!
Even though we sigh,
You'll be in our hearts forever,
Dear old Brighton High.

MARY LAGADINOS



Class Day Exercises

Class Day, the most appealing and stirring activity of the year, will always remain secure in our treasury of memories.

Auditorium

Arrayed in white, Phyllis Novak, symbolizing the Spirit of Brighton High School, was seated in the place of honor.

The Herald, Paul Macomber, stepped forward to deliver the following address:

I. Hear Ye! Parents and Comrades! We the class of 1955 gladly welcome you on this our festive day.. For three years Brighton High School has been our Alma Mater. Now we stand at the open door, ready to leave her sheltering walls for the great adventure of life. Ere we say a courageous "All Hail" to the unknown future, we pause for a sad and grateful farewell to our loved school.

II. Some of us merit special recognition for high scholastic achievement which brings them well-deserved rewards, and reflects honor on their school.

1. Let Jacqueline Riseman winner of the Anna Judson George Scholarship for excellence in English, receive from the Spirit of her Alma Mater the symbol of her victory.

2. Let the winners of the Brighthelmstone Club Scholarships, Christine Chrones, Elizabeth McGinnis, Marianne Milton, and Catherine Pappas, step forward and receive the meed of their intellectual conquests from the Spirit of Brighton High School.

3. Let the winner of the Brighton High School Alumni Scholarship, Harriet Poltorak, receive an award symbolic of scholastic excellence.

4. Let the winner of the Home and School Association, Winifred Conlin, receive the award indicative of scholastic prowess.

5. Let the winners of the Brighton High School Scholarships, Edna Bridges, Venice Cahaly, Christine Chrones, Winifred Conlin, Evelyn Feldman, Ellen Gordet, Elizabeth McGinnis, Marianne Milton, Marlene Okstein, Catherine Pappas, Antonetta Pellegrini, Barbara Richmond, Jacqueline Riseman, and Fred Tillotson, receive the awards symbolic of their scholastic attainments.

6. Let the Senior and Junior honor students unite in placing the laurels of their attainments at the feet of their Alma Mater.

7. We now bestow praise on a member of the Senior Class, Clare McAvoy, who has been conspicuous during the year in promoting the Brighton High School Spirit by her interest in physical education, and who has been personable, faithful, honorable, and reliable.

a. Let Clare McAvoy come forward to receive a medal whic betokens her accomplishment.

b. We also commend John Elliott, a member of the Senior Clas who has distinguished himself by his work in physical educatio

c. Let John Elliott come forward to receive a medal of his accon plishment.

8. To one school we are loyal, and in our loyalty we are united. But we are many members in one body. Our various courses give opportunity for full development of various powers.

a. Let a representative of our Cooperative Course, Laurie Reeves, appear to pay homage to our Alma Mater.

b. Let next a member of our Commercial Course, Mary Lagadinos, render grateful acknowledgment to her. To these two let there be joined one from our College Course, Ellen Gordet, that together all three may show honor to Brighton High School and receive medals which will commemorate their high standing as scholars in whom Alma Mater may justly take pride.

III. Ere we move out into the ranks of the Alumni, we transmit to our successors certain privileges and responsibilities which we have held gladly and faithfully during our senior year. We relinquish these offices to our Junior Comrades with the hope that they may regard them as opportunities for serving the school, and in filling them, add fresh glories to the name of Brighton High School.

1. Let the President of the Senior Class, Philip Berardi, invest the President of the Junior Class with the insignia of his office.

2. Let the President of the Student Council, Philip Berardi, transmit to his Junior officer the symbol of his authority.

3. Let the Co-Editors of The Towers, Winifred Conlin and Jacqueline Riseman, pass on to their successors the token of their high office.

IV. Now shall the Chief Marshal, Fred Shapiro, escort into the presence of the Spirit, our Head Master, Joseph A. Leary, that he may receive from the Co-Editors of The Gothic, Christine Chrones, Elizabeth McGinnis and Catherine Pappas, a perpetual memorial — the gift of our yearbook.

V. Let the Seniors now transmit to the Juniors the guardianship of the National colors.

Class Oration

We are assembled here today to celebrate one of the long awaited functions of our high school career. Class Day will enable us to recall our activities and achievements at Brighton High School — our pleasures, our disappointments, our friendships, the many precious moments that belong to our school days. In a few weeks we shall leave all these behind us.

Ahead of us is an uncertain future which we should prepare for. I do not want to be pessimistic, but we have to learn to face problems squarely. We must develop a real awareness of the threat to all civilization resulting from atomic warfare. There is the possibility of the inevitable destruction and total annihilation of civilization.

We are inclined to feel apathetic now in regard to this situation, since we have learned from the Civil Defense, the necessary steps to be taken in case of an attack. But perhaps, if we were given more information from the Government or the Atomic Energy Commission concerning this type of warfare, we should at least know some of the important factors involved that will enable us to be prepared for what we must face.

The boys, in particular, cannot make definite plans for the future, because they do not know how soon they may be called to serve their country. The Secretary of the Army thus describes the situation: "For the first time in our history we are faced by the necessity of maintaining in peace time comparatively large armed forces ready for immediate action. This fact will multiply the problems of all Americans, especially those in their formative years."

After leaving school we are likely to forget public problems and become concerned with our own personal affairs. However, in a few years we shall be of voting age and shall assume the responsibilities that suffrage places upon us. As future citizens of this country, we must take an active interest in the problems that will now be ours. Let us not become discouraged if we are just a minority among millions, because the minority has always been important in our democracy.

Before closing I wish to pay tribute to the teachers of Brighton High, to whom we are deeply indebted because of their patience and understanding. May we long remember their instruction and inspiration. Also we must never forget the unselfish care and wise guidance that our parents have displayed during our school years.

I should like to leave you with this thought: we young people in spite of the problems facing us have strong hopes and high ideals. As we set out into the world, we must expand our ideals and our beliefs. We must ascertain the qualities that others before us possessed, and try to equal or surpass their achievements, and may God always be present to guide us.

Class History - 1952 - 1955

The auditorium, hushed and quiet though it may be right now, casts a very different spell from the one that it wove on that hazy September morning in 1952 when we sat here for the first time. Our initial assembly! How vividly I recall the Senior Class President, the Co-Editors of the Gothic, the Captain of the Cheerleaders, and the Captain of the Football Team especially as they addressed us, the lowly sophomores. The purpose of the assembly was to instill us with school spirit; but it was quite unnecessary, for our class needed no prompting. The football season was quickly upon us. Showing great promise upon the gridiron were two outstanding sophomores, Phil Berardi and Dave Esterkes. Immediately following the football season, the first edition of "The Towers" appeared with the familiar black and orange cover visible everywhere. It struck a severe blow to those smug Seniors who fancied themselves quite superior. Can you imagine their dismay when, upon turning to page three, they discovered the first prize in the short story contest went to Jackie Riseman, an insignificant Sophomore! However, because of the excitement over the football dance which was to be held in the gym on December 12, they forgave us. Although regarded with suspicion and misgivings by the upperclassmen when first we entered the hall, the festive spirit soon pervaded all. Memories of our introduction to Brighton social life are pleasant to recall. Very quickly the Christmas season was upon us, but before we left school for our vacation Miss Sullivan and Miss Maguire produced a memorable pageant. Seeing the football team adorned with shepherd's dress might have been very funny, had it not been that the tableau was of such a serious, inspiring nature.

Coming back to school in January of 1953, the Sophomore Class was absolutely in the dark as to the meaning of those enormous question marks which were to be seen adorning the corridor walls. Soon we discovered that they heralded the approach of the Talent Show of 1953, which was to be held in the auditorium on January 21. Here for the first time the talented of the Class of '55 made themselves known; and they have, for the past three years, continued to distinguish themselves at every opportunity. In this same month Miss Maguire, who had been the secretary in the Brighton High School office for thirty years, retired. Although we were sorry to see her go, we welcomed Miss Fee heartily; and I might add that in the two and a half years we have known her, Miss Fee has become a dear friend to all. At this time too, the basketball season was in full swing, and Bob Hatch surprised the entire school by qualifying to play varsity ball when he was only a Sophomore.

In February the time came for the assembly commemorating the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln. As Jaye Floyd stood upon the stage reading her prize-winning essay on Brotherhood, which had won her acclaim in a local contest, we became more acutely conscious of the pride which we might take in our class. Jaye has continued to read this essay each year at the same time.

When the blustery month of March stormed in, the third floor of Brighton High harbored many ingenious inventions and displays which had been entered into the competition of the Brighton Science Fair. Sophomores Venice Cahaly, Jayne Wilson, and Christine Chrones walked off with three of the five honors offered.

Spring soon was upon us, making the Castle on the Hill at the top of velvety green heights appear more beautiful than ever. Before we had a chance to consider seriously the baseball team, Bob Hatch and Harry Nosworthy made it evident that they were going to be outstanding on the diamond — and so they were! As June with her warm languid days enveloped us, we were not lacking in pep. That was quite evident when Brighton, for the first time in the history of the school, won first prize in the Street Parade. Colonel Sullivan beamed with justifiable pride for his superior cadets.

With the end of the year we saw the retirement of Mr. William J. Carey, the Head of the Commercial Department. Although not all the pupils had a chance to know him really well, we sincerely felt the loss of this wonderful man.

Summertime 1953, like every summer, seemed to wear wings, and September 14 arrived much too soon, or so we thought! With high enthusiasm, we welcomed Mr. Dolph, a new teacher in the Cooperative Course.

Being Juniors, we didn't receive quite so much attention as we would have liked; but we were determined to prove by our actions that we would not be overlooked!

On came the football season; and with it Corrine Izzo, the Junior Cheerleader, who had been elected the previous June. She capably represented us on the football field during the entire season, which was not so successful as it might have been, because of injuries suffered by the players.

In October, Jackie Riseman brought recognition to Brighton High by winning for the third time a Radio Singing Contest on Station WCOP.

Long will we remember the autumn, for the rain that fell broke all records. Bright colored slickers were the fashion, and because of the blessed rain two whole days of school were cancelled. Winter stormed in, and once more we saw the lovely Christmas pageant presented as a prelude to our holidays at home. The new year was quickly upon us, and on January 22 the Talent Show of 1954 was presented. Joe Cocuzzo can long remember that performance with pride, for he alone had the privilege of being called back for four well-deserved encores.

February brought the basketball season, and with it the first Brighton team ever to enter into the competition of the Tech Tourney. Coach McCabe's well-trained boys put up a hard fight and made a good showing. In this same month, we witnessed the retirement of Mrs. Ellen Flynn, the girls' health teacher; and we were completely captivated by the direct, disarming manner of Miss Johnson, her replacement.

March breezed along its merry way and came up with Venice Cahaly, Chris Chrones, and Fred Tillotson of the Junior Class as the winners of the Science Fair.

On April 18 the long awaited Junior Class elections took place. It was a slogan such as this: "Don't be a lemon, vote for Limey," that brought Lester 'Limey' Swartz the presidency of the Junior Class. Hester Beagan was Vice-President, with the office of Secretary being taken by Marian Masserian and her prize winning slogan: "Don't be barberian; vote for Masserian." The lucky girl who was to hold all the money was Treasurer Jean Magazzu!

During this very spring Betty McGinnis won an award from the Jewish Veterans of the U. S. for her essay, "Is There Anything Wrong With Comic Books?" In the autumn of the Senior year Betty was once again honored, when, along with her picture, her article "Youth Speaks for Youth" was published in the Boston Sunday Post Magazine.

In June acclaim again was heaped upon Brighton when her tennis team became District Champs for the fifth time. Immediately following this honor, Patricia Broderick received a prize from the Boston Globe for one of her poems which had appeared in "The Towers," our magazine. "The Towers," by the way, in this competition was awarded a cash prize for excellence in make-up! Thus our Junior Year was brought to a close.

As we expected, the summer dragged, but at long last September arrived, and we stepped with perfect poise into our newly assumed role of condescending seniors. With genuine sorrow we learned that Mr. Leary was ill and would be unable to welcome us officially back to Brighton High. Hearing this unfortunate news made us more determined than ever to be a great success as a Senior Class, and in so doing, make Mr. Leary proud of us, and anxious to be back as soon as possible.

Our last year! To us belonged the privilege of copping all the honor and predominating in all offices! We realized that the year had truly begun when Cathie Pappas, Chris Chrones, and Betty McGinnis, Co-Editors of "The Gothic," began to urge us to have our pictures taken for the yearbook. Material about seniors was also being sought by Winnie Conlin and Jackie Riseman, Co-Editors of "The Towers" — and we reveled in all the attention directed at us.

Once more the football season was upon us with Brighton's team headed by Dave Esterkes and Phil Berardi. The day of the first game arrived; though all eyes should have been upon the team, they could not help but be fastened upon the eight lovely cheerleaders who had been elected the previous June. Those fortunate girls who received the honor were Gail Arseneau, Joan Falwell, Angela Giuggio, Marian Masserian, Marianne Milton, Gloria Morris, Catherine Pappas, and Jayne Wilson. Led by Captain Corrine Izzo, dressed in a black princess style uniform with orange inserts, the girls in contrasting orange did a magnificent job of keeping up the spirit of the team.

All too soon, winter set in and the games were over. Betty McGinnis, writing a weekly column for the "The Brighton Citizen," kept the community well-informed of high school activities during the fall season and the ones which followed.

Soon it was time to elect a student to represent our school at the State House on Good Government Day in February. To Bob Hatch went that much sought honor.

It was a happy day in November that brought Mr. Wellings to teach chemistry. He had come to replace Mr. Gibbons, who had gone on to become Head Master of Dorchester High. Earlier in the year we had received with enthusiasm Miss Florette Tremblay, the new typing teacher. Another very charming addition to the faculty was Mrs. Elizabeth Heyward who was to teach English to the boys of the Cooperative Course.

The old adage, "Time flies," seems most appropriate in describing our Senior Year, for before we had time to realize it, another Christmas had passed and the promising new year of 1955 was upon us. The last Talent Show in which the Class of '55 would appear was presented on Friday evening, January 28, to a capacity filled auditorium. The Masters of Ceremonies, Lenny Bovarnick and Phil Shepperson, did a superb job of making our last show one of the best ever.

February sixth, the day set aside for Senior Class elections, arrived without delay. So keen was the competition that not a soul dared to attempt predictions. The bulletin issued by the office the next day announced the following results: President, Philip Berardi; Veep, Barry Resnick; Secretary, Marian Masserian; Treasurer, Caroline Antonellis. Chairman of the Executive Committee was Gail Arseneau. Elected to serve with her were Fred Tillotson and Claire Smoske. Marshals were Patricia Broderick, Ernestine Josiper, Pat Kelly, Pat Randall, Dotty Brooks, Fred Forrester, Billy Dalton, and Fred Shapiro, Chief Marshal. Marie Beattie was chosen as Orator.

For days the school literally bubbled with excitement over the pleasing results of the elections, but quickly our attention was directed to the basketball team led by Captain Bob Hatch, and the hockey team led by Barry Resnick. Both teams deserve credit for the good sportsmanship and wonderful spirit they displayed. Although the basketball team did not win a berth in the Tech Tourney, it defeated two outstanding teams; and Captain Hatch had the distinction of being the second highest scorer in the city.

With regret we saw the remaining months pass into oblivion. Today we stand here bidding a final farewell to our Alma Mater. Only two more events remain to complete a year that has fulfilled its every anticipation. The Senior Prom, to be held on May 13 in Longwood Towers and Graduation on June 7, bring a close to high school days, but they do not bring an end to our history; for I am confident that the members of the Class of 1955 will continue as graduates to bring honor and glory to our name!!

Class Prophecy of 1955

"Hello, Cathie! I hope I'm not late for tea. I just bought the latest edition of the Marianne Hearst Milton Tribune, and while we're sipping our Dolcimascolo tea, we can try to find some news about our former classmates."

"What's the headline?"

"Uranium Discovered!"

Philip Zahka, the new head master of Brighton High School was walking through the boiler room with his Geiger Counter inspecting the heating system which had been in a state of inactivity for four months, when he discovered uranium. Co-operative teachers Havey and Manganis, and school nurse Patricia Kelley rushed down after hearing his joyful shouts through the radiator pipes. Secretary Maureen Lowry telephoned the DePietro Demolition Company, and the crew, Morrison, Ilacqua, Gates and Boylen began work immediately. Policemen Rees Irvine, Edward Jones, and Gerald Sullivan were dispatched to control enthusiastic spectators.

Christine Chrones, bacteriologist at the John Murphy Hospital, has named her new germ discovery the Roberticus Dixey germicus in honor of her laboratory assistant. Word comes from the same hospital that nurses Antonetta Pellegrini, Edna Bridges, Dorothy Brooks, Patricia Broderick, Carol Jones, and Francis Sudbey, and surgeon Richard Leve are still excited about an operation performed last week. It seems that the longest appendix on record was extracted from patient Marshall Cohen.

At one o'clock today a three alarm fire broke out in the Flaherty, Flaherty and Zimmerman Beauty Corner, where socialites Ariadne Jeon, Margaret Roarke, and Selma Sawaya had appointments with world renowned coiffeur Richard Swanson, who beautifies hair with special preparation LaBreck Shampoo. The daring rescues of assistant beauticians Beverly Lombardo, Janet McKaye, and Arlene Levy were made by firemen Edward Seigel, William Gallagher, and Charles Andrews.

An international crisis was almost caused today by U. N. translator Roger Fremont, when he misinterpreted a speech. U. S. delegate Thomas Decter, a French expert, detected the error immediately and the situation was cleared up. Ace reporter Robert Pennington was on hand to get the details of the story which appears on page 5.

Ronald Amoling, Chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, reports that the recent sharp fluctuations in the stock market have been caused by tips given by commentator Joseph Teehan on his T.V. show. Mr. Laurie Reeves, president of the American Stock Exchange, says that John Elliot, Paul Ford, and James Barron, prominent businessmen who made large investments in the O'Neil-Operack Oil Stock in 1974, made gains of over $2,000,000 within one hour.

A plane on its way to Mexico developed engine trouble and crashed over the Nueces River. Airline hostesses Anita Spaulding, Judy Bloomstein, and Susan Bennett pulled passengers Marian Sotir, Sarah Lesser, Bettyanne Conolly and Phyllis McCarthy from the burning wreckage.

Noted dentist Burton Troyan has written a new novel, "Six Bridges to Cross," which will be put out by the Conlin Publishing Center.

"Here's the theatre section."

Featured at the Cutler Ballroom of the Moritz-Dalton Hotel this week are Dave Nager, his trombone and orchestra with special guest vocalist Angela Giuggio. Free dance instruction is offered by Lucille Sneider.

The Donlin-Donlin Summer Stock Theatre has published the cast for its new musical by Barbara Richmond, Edna Shallow and Betty LePage. The choreographer Caroline Pontes is proud of dancers Barbara Zahka, Sandra Stamm, Sandy Fine, Gloria Morris, Yvonne Tsesmedzis, Frances Larkin, and soloist Ina Sachs.

Norman Zanuck Grossman, producer of "A Trolley Car Named Deban" and "The Barefoot Count Guenther," has just announced his latest triumph. This picture, starring dramatic actress Jacqueline Riseman, is a story of passion, of violence, of mental torture. It contains the greatest mob scene ever to be enacted. Its title — LUNCHROOM!

William Evans is co-starring with Lucy Lollobrigida Tocci in "Cake, Hate and Nightmares (not to be confused with Bread, Love, and Dreams) now playing at the Megna Theatre. The film was produced and directed by Robert Pellecchia and Frank Capostagno. The supporting cast includes Virginia Arakelian, Caroline Antonellis, and Alan McNaughton. The selected short subjects show the first unveiling of Vitiello's greatest sculpture in bronze of Venus de Brighton, modeled by Eugenia Rufo, and latest invention of physicists George Tsacoyeanes and Anthony Giordano.

"Let's see what's happening in the sports world."

Fred Forrester has been appointed manager of the Red Sox. Dodgers defeat Giants 4-3, at Eggert's Field. In the last half of the ninth inning, with the score tied at 3-3, with two outs and the bases loaded, Giant pitcher Richard McNulty threw a very high, very inside pitch at Dodger shortstop William Izzo. The ball hit Izzo on the head and sent him to first base, thus forcing in the winning run. Izzo is reported in good condition, but McNulty will not be able to play for the rest of the season because of the wounds inflicted by empty coke bottles. Also reported in bad condition are umpires Joseph Paquin, Patrick Pacino, and Robert Guyette, who after twelve years of calling baseball games in Brooklyn still haven't learned how to run fast.

Here are the results of the last race at Santa Ciampa: Thunderbolt ridden by Neil Swart came in a horse's eyelash ahead of Desprez on Ricci Boy.

"This page has local news."

Officers of the Brighton Women's League Donata Antonellis, Carol Clarke, Claire Sweeney, and Rena Falconer announce their Fashion Show to be held Wednesday next. Summer Fashions will be modeled by Charlotte Johnson, Joan Falwell, Deanna Rufo, Virginia Chase, and Clare McAvoy. Among the latest trends to be previewed will be Cicconi's new "Nothing Look," designed especially for stout women.

Some of the local winners of the Cusack Flour Baking Contest are Betty McGinnis, Betty Albee, Claire Murphy, and Rosebud Holland. The first prize is a trip to Cahaly, Cassidy, and Corbett's Siberian Ski Lodge.

Phyllis Novak, Nancy Cohen, and Penelope Peterson have recently published their new book, entitled, "NEUROSIS," in which they describe the hardships endured by secretaries working for the tight-fisted executives Joe Graham, Gary Kischell, and John Bergmark. First hand information was collected from long-suffering secretaries Joan Hurley, Barbara McGrath, Carol O'Rourke, and Lorraine Bornstein.

Anna Marie Joachim has just moved her exclusive girls' school from Burnham Woods to Dunsinane, and has hired, to instruct her students in the fine art of oratory, noted speechmaker, Marie Beattie. Other members of the faculty are Barbara Hatch, art instructor, and physical education teachers Patricia Ackerly and Charlotte Stewart. Also new to the staff this year are guidance counselors Elaine Burton and Margaret Wallace.

"Well, I guess that finishes the whole newspaper."

"No, there's one tiny article here at the bottom of the last page. You'd better read it, the printing's much too small for me."

"It says, 'After twenty years of backbreaking toil, the prophets of Brighton High's class of 1955 have finished their adumbrations and are ready to test the verity of what by now are no longer prophecies. If typists Dubro, Foley, and Reidy will type these articles, they will be read at the next class reunion in March. At that time the two prophets, broken in mind in spirit, will hand in their clairvoyant buttons and crystal balls, and retire.' "

"Well, I guess we'll be able to find out what all our classmates have been doing in March."

"Yes, I'll be looking forward to that."

"Have another cup of tea?"

Class Will

We, the Class of 1955, vowing that we are of fairly sound and disposing mind, do bequeath this last will and testament to our successors.

To B. H. S. — we leave the happy memory of three pleasant years, confident that each of us has made a contribution to the prestige of our school and that future classes will consider us an excellent model by which to pattern their behavior.

To Mr. Leary — we leave good health for many years to come.

To the Juniors — we leave the honor of being Seniors in one of the best high schools in Boston.

To the Sophomores — we admonish you to study hard your Junior year so that your Senior year may be one of few scholastic worries.

To Miss Marshall — we leave more cooperation.

To Mr McCabe — we leave more baskets for his basketball team.

To Mr. Dooley — we leave new law books. (finally)

To Mr. Barry — we leave more money for an already successful magazine.

To Mr. Kelliher — we leave a large supply of grammatical Geiger Counters that will detect the presence of subjects, verbs, and objects.

To Mr. Walsh — we leave the Gothic for '55.

To Mr. Fuller — we leave memories of past Senior classes.

To Miss Greene — we leave some talented newcomers for next year's Class Day program.

To Mr. Lewis — we leave more smart girls in the physics class.

To Mr. Dowell — we leave a lunchroom "Sneak Detector."

To Mr. Kaufman — we leave some new equipment for his experiments in chemistry.

To Mr. Fitzgerald — we leave thanks for his advice and understanding.

To Mr. O'Keeffe — we leave more characters for his illustrations.

Barbara Kushner — leaves her full schedule to some poor junior, (6 majors a day).

Dorrance Zwick — leaves her shy, winning manner.

Linda Gould — leaves her Towers material for Miss Marshall.

Fred Tillotson — leaves perfect attendance for three years. (Wow! he didn't miss a day.)

Harris Tarlin — leaves the college boards to some poor junior.

Fred Shapiro — leaves his name to some deserving basketball player. (Cousy)

Leonard Bovarnick — leaves his half of the M. C. job at the Talent Show.

Gregory Theodore — leaves Center Field.

Aaron Rybak — leaves to make his mark on the business world.

Martin Keogh — leaves a host of fond memories.

Dick D'Onofrio — leaves the business staff of The Gothic to Mr. Walsh.

Jayne Wilson — leaves our cheerleading squad, desolate.

Maria Simoncelli — leaves to join the alumni about whom she has written so faithfully for three years.

Cathy Pappas and Ellen Gordet — leave the class Prophecy of '55 as a model for future prophets.

Marian Masserian and Jean Magazzu — leave 302 for the last time.

Noreen Cavanagh — leaves her crowing glory to a deserving junior.

Maureen Haley — leaves Miss Marshall to do her own typing. (What a catastrophe!)

Ernestine Josiper — leaves her record in shorthand. (100 words per minute.)
Barbara Poole — leaves her exuberant personality.
Joanne Crowley — leaves B. H. S. to be married.
The twins, Jeanne and Joan Kaufman — depart with Jean and Joan Donlon, to create chaos in the outside world as it tries to tell them apart.
Harriet Barack, Barbara Freedman, and Shirley Ward — leave their gift of gab.
Grace Moscaritolo — leaves liking every Senior in the class, so she says.
Pat Randall and Claire Sweeney — leave their spot in the office for some qualified Juniors.
Robert Collins — leaves to work for "The Boston Traveler."
Walter Gormley — leaves B. H. S. en route to Hingham.
Bob Smith and Charles Ussher — leave those wonderful homeroom discussions.
Ronald Teas — leaves his abiding interest in opera to some musical-minded underclassmen.
Corrine Izzo — leaves open her Captain's place on the cheerleading squad.
Marlene Brown and Joan McNally — leave their proficiency in writing business letters to some needy Juniors.
Nicholas Carey — no longer will leave class early for the lunchroom.
Richard Martin — leaves one dented trumpet and a place in the band.
Marcia Cody —leaves her hope for success.
Marlene Okstein — hopes to come back to B. H. S. (Only this time as a member of the faculty.)
John Ellis — leaves his car outside of B. H. S.
Paul Macomber — just wants to leave.
Edward Yazbek — leaves to enter the U. S. Marines.
Richard Gordon — leaves to look back on the short but happy days at B. H. S.
Martin Harris — leaves to become a dentist. (Good luck, Bucky!)
Juliet Henshaw — leaves her physics class (The only girl!)
Barbara Kalowsky — leaves to defend all her friends in a court of law.
Betty Mays — leaves her ability to make friends easily.
Judith Berton — leaves her ambitions to some high aiming Junior.
David Waldman — leaves to achieve the goal he set for himself in life.
Annabelle Chellis — leaves to be married.
Hester Beagan — leaves the Junior Class Vice-Presidency.
Linda D'Agostino — leaves her dance in the Talent Show.
Mary Lagadinos — leaves her beautiful Class Song of '55.
Philip Berardi — leaves so many positions vacant that it will take at least four Juniors to replace him.
Joyce Bryar — leaves her keen sense of humor to a serious Junior.
Mary Lou MacIntosh — leaves her super intellect to any needy Junior.
Dorothy Densmore — leaves a stack of unread, unclipped exchanges for next year's exchange editor.

Warren Cutler — leaves his ambitions to become a race driver.
James Donovon — leaves to seek the riches of the world.
Guido Fasoli — leaves to become an engineer.
John Gorrigan — leaves for the U. S. Marines. (Good luck, John!)
Carl Peterson and Robert Flaherty — leave to open a string of garages. (They offer a discount for the Faculty!)
Salvatore Piazza — "Big Sal" — leaves to work for the Ford Company.
Richard Smith — leaves to earn a million. A million what, Dick?

The Senior Promenade

After the long exciting wait, the magic evening of Friday, May thirteenth, finally arrived — our Senior Prom. Breathless girls flushed pink with excitement and pleasant anxiety of waiting, paused, primped, then moved gracefully into the beautiful ballroom of Longwood Towers, followed closely by handsome young men dressed smartly in summer tuxedos.

The soft glow of dimmed lights, the swirl of pastel gowns, the whispering rustle of crinoline petticoats, the hanging symbols of black magic, all these, coupled with the haunting strains produced by George Graham's Orchestra, served to give our Prom an aura of mystery and excitement.

The ever popular Spot Dance, Mexican Hat Dance, and Bunny Hop gave variety to an evening filled with surprises. Our Class President Phil Berardi, together with his charming guest, led the Grand March. The band then dedicated melodies in honor of Brighton's Athletic teams, our escorts, our honored guests, and most important of all the Class of 1955.

Committee members Claire Smoske and Fred Tillotson, under the able leadership of the Executive Chairman, Gail Arseneau, planned the night's festivities. This group wishes to express their sincere thanks to Faculty Adviser, Mr. Lewis, whose suggestions helped to make the dance an overwhelming success.

Yes, Friday, May thirteenth, is sure to live in the memories of those present for many years to come.

Football

As another year rolled around, and with it another football season, we saw the practice sessions of the Orange and Black eleven get under way. As the team went into its final week of practice before the Jamboree, it looked fast and shifty on offense, and rough and strong on defense. At the Jamboree, Brighton tied Memorial 6-6 and events pointed to a winning season. We had high hopes of taking the district championship. However, because of the loss of Captain Phil Berardi and several ineligible players, the season turned out to be just a fair one. Among the linemen in the squad were Tom Gemelli, Guido Fasoli, Dick McNulty, Bob Flaherty, Captain Phil Berardi, Co-Captain Dave Esterkes, Walter Gormley, and Bob Brady. The backfield consisted of Marty Keogh, Ronald Janey, Bill Dalton, Rod Ames, and next year's Captain Grant Tice.

Center: Captain Corrine Izzo.
Left to Right: M. Mann, G. Arseneau, G. Morris, A. Giuggio, M. Masserian, J. Wilscn, J. Falwell, M. Milton, C. Pappas, A. Poulos.

Cheerleaders

Causing spectator comment and stirring public applause, our cheerleaders, everpresent at all athletic events, spurred our teams on to victory.

Win or lose, these enthusiastic and capable cheerleaders raised the spirits of our team, caused the players to be hopeful of victory or encouraged and comforted them in defeat.

Dressed in long-sleeved, princess syle uniforms with insertions of black in the flares of their skirts, our cheerleaders were Gail Arseneau, Joan Falwell, Angela Giuggio, Marian Masserian, Gloria Morris, Catherine Pappas, Jayne Wilson, Angela Poulos, next year's First Lieutenant, and Marilyn Mann, next season's Captain.

Captain Corrine Izzo, in a uniform of contrasting black, offset by an emblazoned orange "B" on the front, led the cheerleaders with the assistance of First Lieutenant Marianne Milton.

CAPTAIN RESNICK

Hockey

In the middle of December, the candidates for the Hockey team reported to Coach Morris to start training for the oncoming season. Several letter men returned from last year's squad: Captain Barry Resnick, defenseman Tom Mundy, wingmen Rod Ames, Charlie McDonald and Fred LaSalle, and our all-star goalie, Kevin Morris. New men on the squad were Kenny Riccioli, Charlie "Woody" Woodlock, Dick Terrace, and Pete Borriello. All the boys played well and ended the season a good 2 win, 4 loss record to get into a tie for fifth place in the league standings.

Third Row: R. Philpott, T. Charbonnier, Fuller, P. Mazzola, G. Carney, P. Moreno.

Basketball

The basketball team this year with only one returning starter did not do so well as everyone had hoped, but the team had a lot of fight and strengthened tremendously as the year progressed.

Brighton's record over the first half of the season was two and five. The team steadily improved so much over the second half that it defeated Roslindale, the co-champion of the league, bringing the second half record to four and three.

The members of the team were Captain Bob Hatch, Fred Shapiro, Rich Calabro, Bob Roomey, Ralph Clark, Vin Dolci, Ron Janey, Sonny Viola, Tom Gemelli, Ed Jones, Marshall Cohen, and Captain-elect Tony Longo.

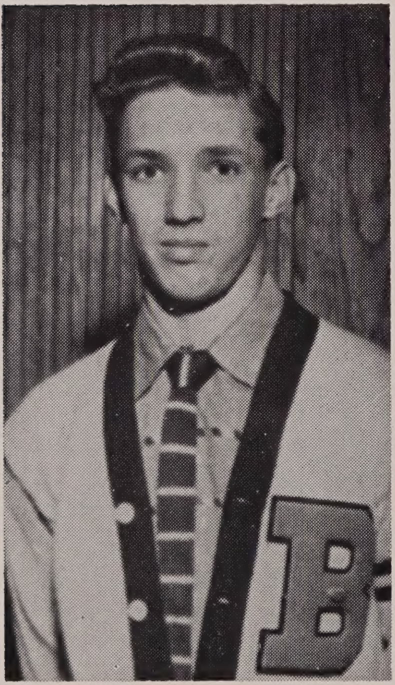
Third Row: M. Keogh, G. Tice, Murphy, D. Dindy.



CAPTAIN KEOGH

Track Team

As the indoor track season came to a close, Brighton improved so much that it had one of the top teams in the city. During the season Sophomore and Junior members showed great promise for next year's team.

Many of the Brighton stars reached the finals of the Regimental Meet. Those in the running events were Captain Marty Keogh, Jim Hickman, and John Repta. Jim Houhoulis, Gary Merrill, Phil Berardi, and Dick McNulty participated in the field events.

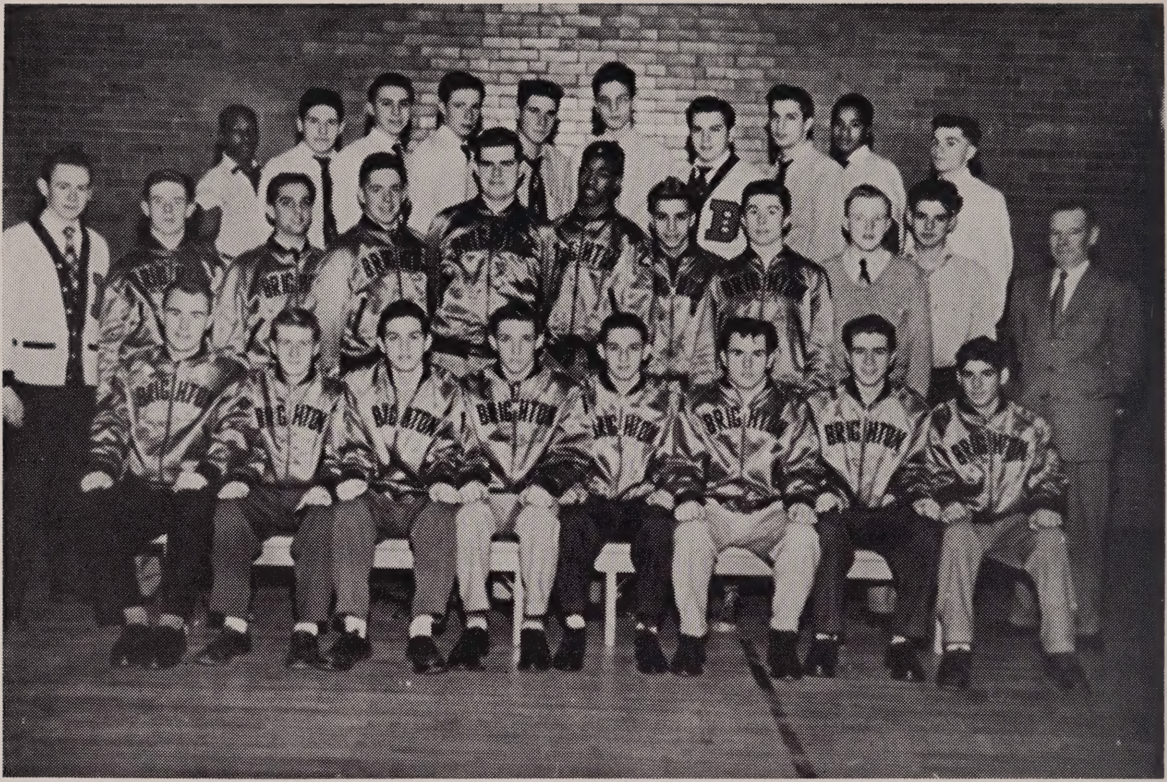
Good luck to next year's team!

First Row: D. Waldman, R. Leve, J. Brooks.
Second Row: R. McNulty, F. Tillotson, P. Berardi.

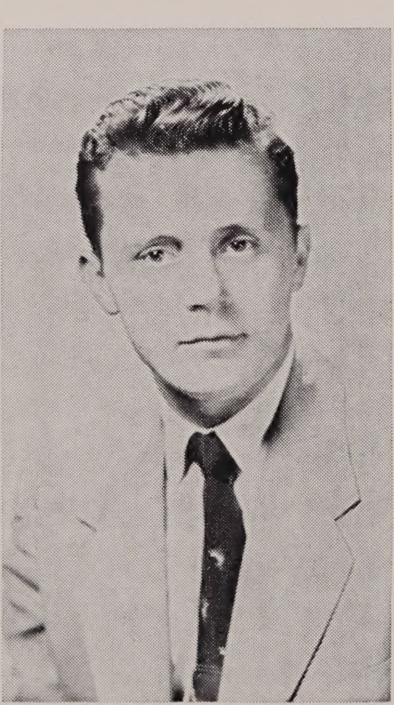
Tennis

The tennis team under its former coach, Mr. Romano, who has just retired, has won the city district championship for the past two seasons. Its top players are Captain Richard Leve, Philip Berardi, Dave Waldman, and Edward Siegel. The tennis team will continue to keep alive this winning tradition and bring honor to Brighton High School.

RICHARD LEVE



First Row: E. McHugh, J. Elliott, P. Mazzola, M. Keogh, L. Waters, J. Martyn, R. Calabro.
Second Row: J. Graham, R. Kadlec, F. Shapiro, R. Brady, F. Forrester, E. Jones, A. Longo, R. Hatch, W. Hogan, Murphy, Mr. Murphy.
Third Row: C. Wilson, B. Reiser, R. Nobile, J. Gorrigan, R. Goyette, D. Dindy, D. Nager, G. Tice, P. Bracey, R. Mealey.



CAPTAIN NOSWORTHY

Baseball

This year the baseball team was fortunate in having six letter men of the 1954 squad return.

With such outstanding players as John Gorrigan at first base, Robert Hatch at second, Martin Keough at third, Robert Ames in the outfield, and Harold Nosworthy as catcher, the Orange and Black team had a sound defensive and offensive squad to back pitchers John Elliot and James Jango.

Under Coach Murphy's leadership the veteran players and the talented sophomores brought honor to the Castle on the Hill.

HAROLD NOSWORTHY, Captain

Girls' Sports Club

Under the direction of Miss Blagdon a number of Girls' Sports Activities were formed. In order to promote good sportsmanship, the captains, who joined together to form the Girls' Sports Club, consulted Miss Blagdon often. All the members practiced hard to improve their individual skills as well as that of their teams. Our sincere thanks go to Miss Blagdon for the healthful sports activities enjoyed by members of all the various groups.

FILOMENA STERITI

First Row: P. Deban, N. Cardinal, M. Parker, M. Carey, L. Pearlman, S. Walsh, J. Loeb, B. Kalowsky, I. Sachs, E. Forman.

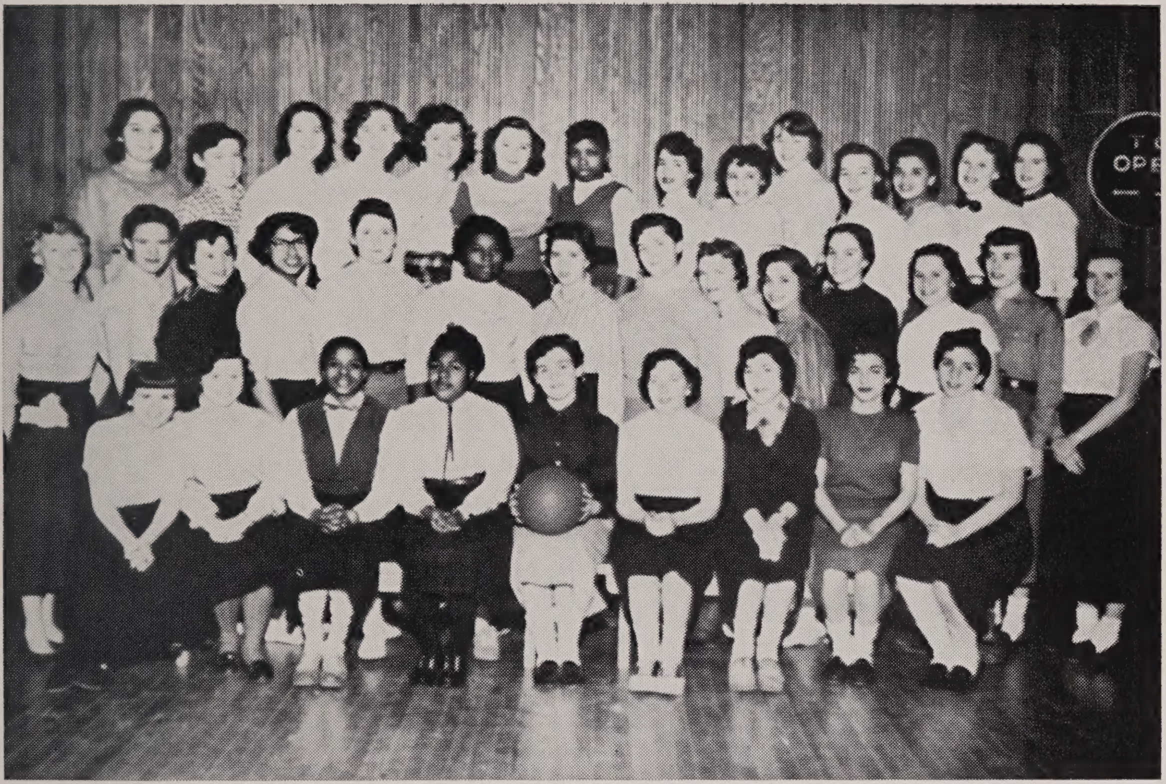
Second Row: J. Kenney, M. Doherty, J. Jones, M. Davison, J. Maguire, J. Berton, B. Richmond, M. Okstein, S. T'chakurides, A. Quaglia, M. Kelliher, K. Holman, C. Martinez, C. Winbush.

Third Row: M. Sotir, M. Midgett, L. Hallenbrook, C. Pappas, M. Wencis, L. Brown, J. Burr, M. Steriti, F. Steriti, N. Misilo, D. Tillotson, B. Kushner, D. Zwick.

Badminton

Many people are familiar with the popular sport of tennis, but few are acquainted with the similar game of badminton. This year the girls' sports club is sponsoring organized activities in badminton. Every Tuesday afternoon the members of this club meet in the girls' gym to take part in this sport. The equipment is supplied by the school, and newcomers to the game are quickly taught the different techniques under Miss Blagdon's fine supervision.

SALLY LEE WALSH, Captain



First Row: M. Carey, B. Heider, M. Midgett, C. Bovill, E. Forman, P. Randall, I. Sachs, D. Zwick, B. Kushner.

Second Row: G. Arseneau, C. Holman, L. Mazzola, J. Jones, J. McCullough, C. Winbush, N. Misilo, B. Kalowsky, L. Brown, M. Okstein, L. Hallenbrook, B. Richmond, C. Martinez, J. Kenney.

Third Row: P. Deban, E. Hannon, M. Doherty, D. Tillotson, J. Burr, B. Spear, J. Swan, M. Haley, C. Izzo, G. Sullivan, J. Loeb, S. Tchakurides, S. Walsh, A. Quaglia.

Girls' Basketball

With the aid of Miss Blagdon the basketball team this year played many exciting games. Meeting every Wednesday afternoon, the team practiced techniques for playing this lively sport more accurately.

On behalf of the team I should like to thank Miss Blagdon for devoting her time and talents for our enjoyment. To future teams we wish all the success in the world.

ELLEN FORMAN

First Row: E. McGinnis, M. Carey, M. Wencis, M. Midgett, C. Bovill, D. Zwick, B. Kushner, B. Kalowsky, I. Sachs.

Second Row: J. Berton, L. Hallenbrook, J. Maguire, M. Parker, C. Wimbush, N. Cardinal, P. Deban, M. Steriti, F. Steriti, L. Pearlman, J. Swan, M. Okstein, J. Loeb, S. Tchakurides, E. Forman, A. Quaglia, J. Jones, D. Tillotson.

Third Row: J. Kenney, E. Gordet, E. Hannon, M. Doherty, B. Spear, B. Richmond, M. Sotir, M. Davison, L. Brown, N. Misilo, S. Walsh, C. Martinez, H. Bell, M. Kelliher, K. Holman, J. Burr.

Tennis

Tennis, one of the great American outdoor sports, is enjoyed by a great majority of the girls of Brighton High.

We girls hold tennis as our most prominent spring sport, and have Miss Blagdon to thank for our achievement.

We all extend to Miss Blagdon for teaching us the fundamentals of tennis our deepest appreciation.

First Row: J. Berton, E. Gordet, M. Midgett, C. Bovill, F. Steriti, B. Kushner, D. Zwick, M. Davison, M. Sotir.

Second Row: M. Wencis, J. Maguire, E. Feldman, L. Snyder, M. Milton, I. Sachs, M. Okstein, M. Parker.

Third Row: N. Cardinal, B. Kalowsky, L. Pearlman, M. Steriti, B. Oakes, H. Bell, M. Kelliher, J. Brown.

Bowling Club

Under the skillful direction of Mrs. Marlene Egan, the Bowling Club met weekly at the Commonwealth Alleys.

Five teams were formed: the Agathas, the Embles, the Kezmos, the Wildcats, and the Woodpeckers, who, during the season, competed against each other. The girls worked diligently to improve their teams; in doing so, they improved their own playing skill greatly.

For this healthful recreation we extend sincere thanks to Mrs. Marlene Egan.

FILOMENA STERITI, Captain

First Row: M. Wencis, M. Midgett, B. Heider, C. Bovill, G. Arseneau, P. Randall, D. Zwick, B. Kushner, B. Kalowsky.

Second Row: M. Haley, C. Izzo, C. Pappas, F. Steriti, M. Steriti, E. Freedman, L. Pearlman, L. Mazzola, J. Swan, M. Okstein, J. Loeb, S. Tchakurides, E. Forman, I. Sachs.

Third Row: M. Carey, N. Cardinal, M. Parker, J. Kenney, P. Deban, M. Doherty, D. Tillotson, J. Burr, G. Sullivan, C. Winbush, J. Jones, L. Hallenbrook, S. Walsh, C. Martinez, H. Bell, M. Kelliher.

Softball

All girls who enjoy outdoor sports look forward to April. Every Monday afternoon girls in their blue and white uniforms play ball on the terraces. Girls are taught the various positions as well as hitting and fielding. They do not engage in interscholastic competition, but restrict their activities to intramural contests. They play a fast and exciting game of softball and really fight to the finish.
